After the instruction that he need not answer if he would criminate himself thereby, and that he need not testify unless he so deasired, he proceeded, unbestatingly, confirming the outline of the case outlined the the first day of the trial by the District Attorney. After having been subjected to a cross examination at great length by the defendants' counsel, they failed of their purpose to get him to contradict himself, but established the fact that he knew noths for about the dynamice found on the train when Broderick, Bowles and Wilson were arrested.

Close attention was paid to Mr. Smith's statement, when Mr. David began to lead tup to the question of Smith's sanity. Smith bears a scar about four inches long on the left side of bis bead. The examination developed the fact that the scar was caused by being caught between two cars. He was uncogatious a long time and onsible to wurk for eight months and his beat sourced him considerably since.

At the close of the, session Mr. Smith was recalled and recrifed no money to testify. The trial was postponed until to-morrow.
